 10120NAT Course in Observing and Documenting a Mental State Examination

This one day, nationally accredited course has been designed for staff working in mental health, or those for whom conducting a mental state examination (MSE) is within their current or anticipated scope of practice. The course reflects the current Queensland Health policies and guidelines in reporting and documenting the MSE in a service delivery setting. The learning focuses on the evidence collected during a clinical interview, to promote evidence based clinical analysis and identification of mental state symptoms, and recording observations in the appropriate manner.

 QC2 Engage, Assess, Respond to, and Support Suicidal People

The Learning Centre has for many years been a key source for suicide risk assessment training across Queensland. The previous version of the course 'Suicide Risk Assessment and Management' was due for a minor review, however with recent increases in suicide rates, and changes in guidelines for clinical practice, there was scope for major redevelopment and to shape it into a more experiential and practical course.

The new QC2 EARS course consolidates the Learning Centre's Suicide Risk Assessment in Emergency Department settings (SRAM-ED) course, with further enhancements supporting the implementation of the Zero Suicide in Healthcare within the Gold Coast Hospital and Health Service, as well as key aspects of the previous suicide risk assessment course.

The blended learning course comprises of two components - beginning with eLearning modules (part 1), followed by a full day face-to-face workshop (part 2).

QC2 EARS is aimed at both new clinicians commencing clinical practice and experienced practitioners seeking to update and consolidate their practice framework with contemporary understanding of supporting suicidal people.

4. Click on 'Enrol me' at the bottom of the page. If it is a Face-to-face or Blended course you will need to fill in some information prior to being able to enrol (eg: Line Managers name and email address and if approval has been asked and granted).
5. You can now go through the content, starting with the Pre training evaluation. You can access the eLearning or enrol in a Face-to-face session workshop once all prior steps have been successfully completed. If it is greyed out, it means a prior step requires attention. Once you have completed each step, the steps will be ticked off automatically.
